| Officeholder address                | Officeholders' addresses must be their usual current residential address. An alternative address may only be used where we approve an application under s205D of the Corporations Act.  |
| Replaceable rules and constitutions | The Corporations Act contains 'replaceable rules' which apply to all companies—except companies where the sole member is also the sole director—and may be used to govern the internal running of the company. Companies may displace some of the replaceable rules by a constitution and be governed by a combination of replaceable rules for some things and their own constitution for others. Where the proposed company is to be governed by a combination of replaceable rules and a constitution, please tick the box that says 'The company has a constitution'. A company with more than one member/director may adopt a constitution provided all persons who have agreed to become a member of the company agree to the terms and conditions. If a written constitution governs the company, a copy of the constitution must also be lodged. A public company that is: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>a superannuation trustee, or</li> <li>for charitable purposes only,</li> </ul> must have a written constitution.   |
